TULLOCH LOOKS TOPS

VISITORS to Hunter Valley wine country have voted Tulloch Wines at Pokolbin as having the best-looking cellar door.

The competition, organised by Hunter Valley Gardens, was held as part of the Festival of Flowers.

Visitors to the festival were asked to judge the competition, taking into account the different style of gardens to suit each cellar door, overall appearance and atmosphere.

Competition was reduced to four finalists, Tulloch, Kelman Estate, Brokenwood and Tower Estate, with Tulloch taking the honours.
