

Melbourne Age
March 11th, 2008
Epicure

Indulge yourself
TULLOCH PRIVATE BIN
POKOLBIN DRY RED 2006

Despite a century of winemaking heritage, Tulloch wines were a lost cause until new ownership and the original Tulloch family re-energised things in recent years. This reborn classic shows Hunter shiraz at its best: intense dark berry fruit and earthiness, harmonious balance, intensity but not heaviness, fine flavour, balanced firm tannins.

(13.5% alcohol; screwcap.)

Ageing? Yes, two to 10 years.

Food ideas: Roast beef.

Stockists include: Small quantities available from Tulloch cellar door or at www.tulloch.com.au.

★★★★★$$

